conventions. The Hill people chain, and from reports which come in from various other sonrees there appears to be some foundation for their claim, that he has been gaining strength in certain sections of the country where he has heretofore been conspicuously weak. From this evidence they claim that the tide is setting in his direction and that all that is necessary to make the movement in his favor effective is to demonstrate beyond doubt that he has the empire state behind him. This they expect to do at the convention on the 22d of February. Apparently no well-informed politician disputes that as things now stand Hill will have a very large majority in that state convention and that a Hill delegation to the national convention will be chosen by it.

rather rubbing it in on them, and even though they confess to be unable to successfully con-tend against Hill in the convention the Cleveland strength in the convention the Cleve-land strength in the state is, beyond question, very great. And politicians here who are not prejudiced in Mr. Hill's favor believe that the resentment of the Cleveland people may find sufficient strength to indicate to the rest of the country that though the Hill delegation may be admitted into the patients. dmitted into the national convention. here is such antagonism in the state that it might make the wisdom of his selection as the national standard bearer questionable. It is fully expected that there will be a contest egation from New York representing those who are opposed to Mr. Hill and who object to his political methods. It is quite probable that this contesting delegation may not be admitted to the convention, but their presence will undoubtedly have an influence, and it is regarded as possible that though Mr. Hill might be able to prevent the nomination of Grover Cleveland he will be utterly unable to secure his own nomination. This, if it should prove to New York men to cut each other's throats po-litically, will leave the question of a choice

SENATOR GORMAN'S CHANCES. Following this line of thought, the political prophets of the Capitol believe that they see Gorman standing out as a strong possibility, not by reason of his original strength, but because they think he is in a position to draw support from all the factions in the party. They confess that some of his former political associations may tend to weaken him, yet the fact that he is recognized among the democrats in Congress as among the foremost men of the party in ability, and that he has of late put himself in touch with the best sentiments of his party, leads to the belief that he may of his party, leads to the belief that he may develop more than ordinary strength as a com-promise candidate. It is a current opinion that Cleveland men prefer Gorman to Hill and that Hill men prefer him to Cleveland, while he personally has not taken sides, but is pre-serving his friendly relations with both men. There may not be much to all this talk, but it is the current gossip of the hour.

Mr. Edbrooke demonstrated to the committee that he could profitably expend half a million in the year following July 1, 1892, and the committee seemed disposed to accept his views. The appropriation for the present year, ending July 1, is $240,000, amply sufficient to cover existing contracts and those that may be made in the meantime for foundation, &c., and any residue may be carried over into next year, so that there is no prospect that the architect will be cramped for funda, but will be able to push the work at top speed. There is a peculiar feature of the law providing for this building which makes it possible for contracts to be made ahead of the appropriations, but within the general limit set by the original set.

A lot of waste paper and rubbish in a toilet room of the House of Representatives caught fire last night, but the blaze was fortunately discovered by an employe and extinguished. The damage is slight. The fire occurred at 7.30 o'clock, when only a few employes are in the capitol, and its accidental discovery prevented what might have been a very serious Slight Fire in the Capitol.

Soon after 10 o'clock the trouble appeared to be practically at an end. The superintendent of police then received a message from Capt. Bragdon. He stated that when the police arrived at Deer Island a large number o' convicts were gathered in the "loafers' shall and that a request for them to keep quiet and get about their day's work was not sufficient, and that they began making a horrible tumult ind tried to resist the police. The latter drew their clubs and it was but the work of a short time before the mob was under subjection.

In some cases these claims depend upon the question of whether the arrival of a vessel could be entered before it was actually in port. At the land frontiers also there has been great trouble and confusion. An interview was had today with Dr. Lardy, Swiss minister to France, relative to the new French tariff. Dr. Lardy declared that his government would have the greatest difficulty in preventing parliament inaugurating a tariff war with France. It was certain, he said, that Switzerland would have to take defensive measures against France's commercial policy. The Marquis de Carbonara, the Italian ambassador, and Baron Beyens, the Belgian minister, were both seen on the same subject and each declared that in view of the new French tariffs his government would take measures to protect its commerce.

MAY CONCENTRATE ON SENATOR GORMAN. There is a feeling among some of the best in formed democratic politicians at the Capitol pany, was wrecked on Beaver avenue at 4:50 who are not pledged in faith to any particular candidate for the presidency that Mr. Hill has perhaps overreached himself in his eagerness to make known to the whole country the fact that he has control of the reliable to the hor country the fact. The explosion occurred as the car was passing the Manchester locomotive works, and though the that he has control of the political machinery concussion was so severe that the cars were of New York. The opinion is expressed that in contriving to have the state convention on the a very early convention this year, but at the same time it is very difficult to overcome the impression that Senator Hill's motive is to make a denonstration of his strength at home that it may influence the action of other states in the selection of the degrates to the actional in the selection of the delegates to the national convention. The Hill people claim, and from reports which come in from various other by a reporter said that he had heard two of the part of the striking conductors who was seen by a reporter said that he had heard two of the long enough firmly established in the demo-cratic party to make an available candidate, and there will be considerable opposition to him. Palmer of Illinois is rather old, though very active for his years, and there is a strong probability that the Morrison influence in the state would be used against him. On the other hand, there being a rivalry and antagonism between the two factions in the state, it is probable that Mr. Morrison himself would find difficulty in securing that support which is necessary to give him strength in the convention.

With these men out of the field the circle is narrowed considerably. If it were not for the fear of going into the south, it is believed that Carlisle might be a strong candid. not for the fear of going into the south, it is believed that Carlisie might be a strong candi-date, though if he got the nomination he would be subjected to personal attacks in the cam-paign, which might be unpleasant. It seems, however, to be a settled or practically settled fact that Kentucky will send a solid delegation for him and his name will be presented to the convention with all the fervid eloquence of southern oratory. The fact that he is the outhern oratory. The fact that he is the eader in tariff reform and stands firmly by all
